

TWO CENTS.

TWO CENTS

PROGRESS ON TARIFF BILL

New Jersey Men Given a Hearing on a Silk Schedule.

ITS PASSAGE PREDICTED

Thirteen Pages of the Measure Are Passed Upon.

Nothing Likely to Occur to Cause Delay -- Protection Desired by Operators of the Jacquard Looms. Representative Parker, of Newark, in Behalf of Shoemakers, Argues Against a Tariff on Hides.

Washington, June 17.—In view of the rapid progress made yesterday in the consideration of the tariff bill, when thirteen pages of the measure were passed upon, and the prompt action of the wine and liquor question today, the Republican leaders in the debate are greatly encouraged. Senators Allison and Platt say this afternoon that they believed nothing would now occur to hinder the prompt passage of the several schedules in succession and a decisive final vote on the measure as a whole.

The Republican members of the finance committee today gave a hearing to several New Jersey members of congress and Senator Sewell on industries in that state affected by the new tariff. The principal topic discussed was the silk schedule. Representative Stewart, of Paterson, asked the committee to place a specific duty of one and one-half cents on each Jacquard silk loom imported from France. He represented that the Jacquard industry is a new one in this country and that it desires protection. The committee informally consented to the proposition and an amendment drawn up by Mr. Stewart will be introduced, probably by the committee.

Mr. Stewart and Senator Sewell also asked that a difference in duty of 50 cents per pound be made between the duty on silks imported in gum and the duty on printed and dyed silks. This is asked as protection to the dyers and printers of silks in this country. Another amendment proposed would make the basic duty on all silks in piece $2.50 per pound instead of $2. It was said that the agreement reached among the principal silk manufacturers and the committee several months ago, provided for a $2.50 rate, but that, by a mistake, the $2 rate was adopted. All the amendments asked for, except the one affecting Jacquard designs, have been introduced in the senate by Senator Penrose.

Representative Parker, of Newark, in behalf of shoe manufacturers, argued strongly against a tariff on hides, and asked for a reasonable rate of duty on shoe strings.

The house was in session an hour and a half today, most of the time being taken up with roll calls. Mr. Sulzer, Democrat, New York, succeeded in injecting into the proceeding a brief speech in favor of Cuba, in which he denounced Weyler as a "thief and murderer." The bill for the relief of the residents of Greer county, Oklahoma, was passed.

The senate made greater progress today on the tariff bill than any day since the debate opened. Two entire schedules covering twenty pages, were completed, namely, schedules H, on spirits, wines and beverages, and schedule I, on manufactured cotton goods. This brings the senate to the flax schedule, with the important wool schedule standing next.

The portion of the bill passed today is substantially the same as that reported, all committee changes being unimportant, while the opposition amendments of Mr. Jones of Arkansas, and Mr. Vest were systematically rejected by majorities varying from 5 to 10. Mr. Allison secured the addition of a new paragraph to the cotton schedule which the Republicans have promised to report, and a few other sections. The indications are now that the Republicans will withdraw the internal revenue provisions of the bill.

NO MORE OBJECTION.

Some of the Democratic members of the senate committee on finance said today that henceforth they would interpose no objection to the rapid disposal of the tariff bill. They will suggest amendments and ask votes on them for the purpose of making a record, but there will, if they can control the matter, be no long speeches on the schedules with the possible exceptions of wool, hides, the reciprocity paragraph which the Republicans have promised to report, and a few other sections. The indications are now that the Republicans will withdraw the internal revenue provisions of the bill.

OPENING OF INDIAN LANDS.

No Trouble Expected from the Uncompahgre Utes.

Washington, June 17.—The Washington authorities have received no advice as to the holding of a big powwow among the Uncompahgre Utes in Utah, as reported, to protest against the projected allotments and opening of the lands in severally. Like many of the tribes who view allotments with disfavour as contrary to their traditions and customs, the Uncompahgre have not wanted their lands divided, and believe that their rights are thus invaded. They claim a much larger stretch of territory than is recognized by congress.

The allotments were directed by the Indian appropriation bill for 1896-7, which provided for the allotment in severalty of all agricultural lands of non-agricultural Utes, and the opening of unallotted lands on April 1, 1898, to

HAWAIIANS PREFER ENGLISH RULE

Remarkable Statement by Bishop Willis on the Subject.

ARE AGAINST THE UNITED STATES

English Papers Say We Are Going to Be a Great Sea Power, but Salisbury Should Assert Claims to Hawaii--If Great Britain Does Not Want the Islands the Bishop Thinks That Queen Lil Should Be Reinstated.

Plymouth, Eng., June 17.—Bishop Willis, of Honolulu, has just arrived here from Hawaii. In an interview he is quoted as saying that the feeling in the islands is against the United States and greatly in favor of British annexation. But, the bishop adds, Great Britain has held aloof, although a third of the capital of the country is British. Bishop Willis remarked that he thought that if Great Britain would not take the country, the next best course was for Japan to reinstate Queen Liliuokalani. Referring to the annexation of the islands by the United States the bishop said that the proposal was only advanced in order to please certain politicians, as America did not want the islands, "because the law of expulsion (the United States excluding laws) would become modified if Hawaii was annexed."

In conclusion the bishop is quoted as saying there is no doubt Japan will enforce her claims in Hawaii, where her commercial prospects are good.

OPPOSITION IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, June 17.—F. B. Thurber, of New York, editor of the American Grocer, and the author of the editorial opposing Hawaiian annexation quoted in the Commercial Advertiser yesterday, arrived in Washington last night. Mr. Thurber's presence in Washington at this time, it is believed, is to oppose favorable action on the treaty.

QUEEN LIL'S PROTEST.

Washington, June 17.—Ex-Queen Liliuokalani, of Hawaii, this afternoon filed a voluminous protest in the office of Secretary of State against the ratification of the Hawaiian treaty. It was delivered into the hands of Secretary Sherman by Mr. Joseph Heleluhe, representing the native Hawaiians duly commissioned by two of their patriotic leaders. Mr. Heleluhe was accompanied by Captain Palmer, the American secretary of Liliuokalani. Mr. Sherman treated the bearers most courteously but gave no indication of his action in the matter.

In the protest the ex-queen says: "I declare such treaty to be an act of gross injustice to me." She says further that she yielded her authority in Hawaii to the forces of the United States to avoid bloodshed and because she recognized the futility of a conflict with so formidable a power.

MADE INSANE BY VERISCOPE.

Morgan Developed Lunacy While at the Fitzsimmons-Corbett Show.

New York, June 17.—Edward Morgan, of 320 East Forty-first street went to the veriscope reproduction of the Fitzsimmons-Corbett prize fight at the Academy of Music last evening, and during the final round he went crazy. He crowded from his seat in the second gallery to the rail and shouted: "Take me to Christ."

FIRE QUICKENED LOVE'S FLAMES.

Ellis' Island Blaze Left Elopers Lovers in a Flight.

New York, June 17.—August Ogert, a farmer from Leipsic, Saxony, and his sweetheart, Magdalena Seid, came here on the German steamer Adra from Hamburg. Ogert had been divorced from his wife, with whom he could not agree. He and Magdalena had been sweethearts for many years, and they brought with them a trousseau and an outfit for housekeeping. At Ellis Island they were told they must be married before they would be allowed to proceed to Chicago, and yesterday morning was set for the wedding, but the fire interfered.

A WHIRLWIND IN NEW ORLEANS.

A Public Market Unroofed and Thirty Houses Damaged.

New Orleans, La., June 17.—A purely local whirlwind occurred yesterday afternoon. It started in the office of the squares, blew the roof off a public market, and damaged about thirty houses, spending itself in about six squares and hurting nobody seriously. There was a rain storm over the rest of the city, but no other section felt the terrific wind.

MONUMENTS TO INDIANS.

Many Army Veterans Favor the Petition of the Sioux.

Washington, June 17.—The desire of Sioux Indians to erect a monument to their warriors who participated in the

LUTHERAN SYNOD CLOSES ITS WORK

Lively Sessions Mark the End of the General Convention.

REV. MR. CRESSMAN'S RESOLUTION

Adopted by the Synod, and Ends All Future Conventions with the United Brethren Church--York, This State, the Next Place of Meeting.

Mansfield, O., June 17.—The general Lutheran synod completed its work at the afternoon session and formally adjourned in the evening.

The ministers began leaving the city immediately after the afternoon session and comparatively few were present at the final adjournment.

The afternoon session began with the adoption of a resolution that the synod correspond with the American Bible society and request that in countries where the Lutheran church is established as in Germany and Sweden, she will have a voice in the distribution of Bibles.

CLAIM $500,000 DAMAGES.

The Government's Use of a Patented Dredging Machine the Ground.

Washington, June 17.—John H. Miller, counsel for Alonzo B. Bowers, of California, and John B. Brown, of Illinois, today filed a petition in the court of claims demanding judgment against the United States for $500,000 for the use by the government of a patented dredging machine owned by the claimants.

The machine has been used by the government in river and harbor work at Oakland and Mare Island in California, on the Mississippi, between St. Louis and New Orleans, on the Potomac river at Washington and in Puget Sound.

DRAWING THE LINE IN THESSALY.

Mountain Crests for Turkey and Villages for the Greeks.

Constantinople, June 17.—The ambassadors of the powers have submitted to the Turkish government the scheme for the delimitation of the frontiers of Greece and Turkey as drawn up by the military attaches of the different embassies during their recent visit to Thessaly.

It gives to Turkey the mountain crests on the frontiers of Thessaly, but the Turks are not allowed to retain any of the villages of Thessaly. Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish minister of foreign affairs, said he would submit the plan to the sultan and to the cabinet.

CYCLIST SHOTS DOWN SOLDIERS.

Defended Himself with a Revolver When Attacked.

Cheyenne, Wyo., June 17.—Charles S. Erswell, a telegraph operator, when riding home on his bicycle late last night, was attacked by a party of ten or twelve soldiers from Fort Russell. After he had been knocked from his wheel, Erswell shot one of the soldiers. He then managed to get inside his house, which the soldiers immediately bombarded with rocks. They broke windows and forced in the kitchen door. As they rushed into the house Erswell shot a second time, dropping another of the soldiers. One of them is seriously wounded.

HUTCHINS OUT OF PRISON.

Governor Black Commutes His Sentence at the Request of Veterans.

Auburn, N. Y., June 17.—Maj. Jno. F. Hutchins, who was received at Auburn prison from Rochester Oct. 28, 1893, to serve a sentence of twelve years for criminal assault, was released from prison this morning on a social commutation from Governor Black, which reduced his sentence to five years and one month.

Hutchins is a veteran of the war and Governor Black was induced to act in his behalf by a delegation of veterans who called on him yesterday.

THE DAVIS WILL CASE.

A Bank Teller Pronounces the Signature a Forgery.

San Francisco, June 17.—During the trial of the Davis will case a sensation was created by E. Maxwell, paying teller of the First National bank of this city, who was called as an expert to pass upon the signature in the will.

He declared the signature to be a forgery and expressed the conviction that the forgery was committed by Alex. Boyd, partner of the dead man, who holds the same relation to the legatees as did Davis.

DINES WITH THE PRESIDENT.

Hon. Stewart L. Woodford Accepts the Spanish Mission.

Washington, June 17.—Hon. Stewart L. Woodford, of New York, the newly appointed minister to Spain, was today in consultation with the president and formally accepted the office.

Tonight Mr. Woodford dined with the president, Secretary and Mrs. Alger and Mrs. John A. Logan, also being guests. The new minister declined to say when he intends to start for Madrid. It is probable that he will not sail for a couple of weeks.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

Weather Indications Today: Light Thunder Storms.

- 1 General—Looking for South American Trade.
- 2 Proposed Passage of the Tariff Bill Predicted.
- 3 Sports—Eastern, National and Atlantic League Scores.
- 4 Bicycle Chat.
- 5 State—Work of the Legislature.
- 6 Convention of Coal Miners at Altoona.
- 7 Amateur Base Ball.
- 8 Editorial.
- 9 Washington Gossip.
- 10 Story—"Immoral Fame."
- 11 Local—Lively Sessions of Councils.
- 12 Court Doings of a Day.
- 13 Local—School of Lackawanna Commencement Exercises.
- 14 Oleo Dealers Have a Hearing.
- 15 Local—West Side and City Suburban.
- 16 Lackawanna County News.
- 17 Neighboring County Happenings.
- 18 Financial and Commercial.

DELAVAN HOUSE VICTIMS.

Three More Bodies Have Been Recovered.

Albany, N. Y., June 17.—While clearing away the ruins of the Delavan house, which was burned on December 31, 1894, workmen today found the remains of three bodies. They were identified as the bones of Mary Cary, Bridget Fitzgibbons and Thomas Cannon, hotel servants.

Of the fourteen persons who lost their lives in the fire all have now been accounted for except Nougata Sturea, a servant.

FATHER KNEIPP DEAD.

He Expires at Woerishofen--Famous for His Water Cure--Story of an Active and Eventful Life.

Munich, June 17.—Rev. Father Kneipp, known throughout the world for his water-cure, who has been suffering from an early age to enter the trade of his father and become a weaver. He had, however, an early desire to become a priest, and he never relinquished the idea of ultimately becoming one.

At the age of twenty-one he set out on a pilgrimage to attain his object, knocking at many a door that remained closed to him, and appealing to many a heart that turned coldly away. Finally, however, a kind man, who afterward became a celebrated one as well, took pity on the poor weaver lad, and gave him his first instruction. Learning must have proved very hard work at times to the elderly student, all the more that in the short period of two years he advanced so far, as he admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains, he was given up as incurably blind, and a nature less strong must have hopelessly become a prey to hopeless melancholy. It is now that he accidentally came across a little book on the water cure. He tried it, found that it helped him, and he was cured. He was admitted to the third class of the gymnasium at Dillingen. But when he finally graduated from there he was a sick man. So near the goal that was attained, such pains,